INFORMATION AND APPLICATION FORM

The European School of Haematology is looking for 2 Young Scientific Reporters, to cover the 7th International Conference on Acute Myeloid Leukemia “Molecular and Translational”: Advances in Biology and Treatment.

1) YOUR ROLE:

Onsite:

- Write scientific posts on ESH social networks (with speakers' consent), per session.
- Daily report based on abstracts/presentations/posters.
- Carry out brief interviews with KOLs attending the conference.

After the conference:

- Create conference highlights from the webcast of the conference presentations (with the technical help of the ESH eLearning team)

2) YOUR BENEFIT:

- Recognition of your status as 'ESH Young Scientific Reporters' on ESH documents (conference books, letterhead, website).
- Free registration, accommodation and flights covered by ESH at the 7th International Conference on Acute Myeloid Leukemia “Molecular and Translational”: Advances in Biology and Treatment. Free registration at other ESH conferences, in which you would like to participate as “regular” participants.
- Be part of the “Young Investigators Committee”.
